

It's a Blooming Business

January 22, 2004

To Whom It May Concern:

I am pleased to write a referral letter for Sean Edelstein of Prudential California realty. Sean was the business broker that handled the transaction and sold my flower shop in 2003.

Sean is fluent in business transactions and is consistently working to achieve maximum results for his clients. He is always available and will work hard for a successful partnership for both the buyer and the seller in his transactions. His experience will get his clients maximum results and his keen business sense is a tremendous advantage.

My experience with Sean was both positive and rewarding. I am confident that he can secure a positive outcome for anyone that lists their business with Sean.

Sincerely,
Dena Feingold
