

Introduction

“One of America’s 100 Best Master Planned Communities.” . . . doesn’t that sound enticing? Fairfield Glade has been awarded this title by the Where to Retire Magazine as well as having the distinction of Rand McNally naming it the fourth best place in the United States for retirement.

In the following pages you will find many interesting things about this resort that so many people already know and so many others want to know. This is where Gwin Realty is going to enable you to get a real feel for the good living here — not just at Fairfield Glade, but a real feeling for the entire Tennessee area that surrounds this magnificent resort!

We will tell you about Cumberland County, where Fairfield Glade is located, as well as Crossville. . . the nearest city (only 6 miles away). You will learn about all the people, the recreational amenities, the medical and health information, the great shopping to be enjoyed, as well as police, fire and ambulance services. There are many denominations of churches close to home, and we haven’t even touched on the realty options of buying, renting, leasing, or just visiting the most picturesque area of the South!

So take a minute to sit and relax while you enjoy this magazine, for you are in for an amazing find!

And just one more thing, if along these pages, you experience any confusion or just want to know a little bit more information about anything you find here, please feel free to contact us with any questions or comments. We will be delighted to talk with you further and make sure you receive any and all additional information that may prove helpful to you and yours.
