John - Thanks for all your work. It was a real pleasure to meet you. I can't tell you how many realtors we have met that are basically incompetent. They have little or no knowledge of schools, commute times, etc. and seemingly don't want to be bothered with those 'details'. Your quick response and straight forward attitude are appreciated.

Subject: Binders

As promised, the binders were completed last night, and will be issued this morning

At this point in time, the vast majority of the properties that meet your broad criteria search are located in the "Tree Section."

We will now whittle down to a micro-search from the initial macro-search, while keeping an eye on the new listings and the new construction.

Thank you for the opportunity to prepare this information.

I'll be in touch...
