In the fourth quarter of 2004 while living in Oregon I contracted to have a home built in Florida. I found Dan Sampson and his company by way of the Internet while doing extensive research for competitive mortgages on a national basis. I found Dan to be to be both very competitive as well as knowledgeable in the various mortgage products that were available in the marketplace at that time. I would definitely utilize his services again should the need arise and recommend him highly to anyone else in need of a home mortgage.
